Call For Papers

Concept Note:

Mahatma Gandhi now known as the greatest person of the twentieth Century and the “Man of the Millennium”, has become much more relevant in the present context on account of his conviction and his unflinching faith in eternal values like truth and nonviolence, his faith in the goodness, purity and nobility of means or methods, humility and patience, religious tolerance and Satyagraha. Gandhi decided to fight against racial discrimination, imperialism, discrimination, exploitation and all kinds of injustices and atrocities on weaker sections of the society from the day he was thrown out of the 1st Class compartment of the train at Pietermaritzburg in South Africa in 1893. Gandhi discovered the moral weapon of Satyagraha to fight against social, political and economic injustices. He determined to apply non-violent methods. The need of the hour is to inculcate the highest virtues amongst the youth of today because the mankind is struggling to escape itself from the evils of the industrial civilisation, greed based economic system and immoral political conditioning, but unfortunately, there is no way to get rid of. In such darkness the thoughts Mahatma Gandhi could be torchbearer. Only Gandhi’s philosophy can bridge the Cartesian division (duality of mind and body). His dedication to truth, non-violence, morality, equity, human dignity and freedom is well defined and it’s well examined fact that his way to live, can free us from many paradoxes. So, at the time of Mahatma’s 150th birth year it is pertinent to re-look, re-read and re-examine his idea of non-violent, truth, satyagraha, sarvodaya and trusteeship.

Mahatma Gandhi Central University Journal of Social Sciences invites articles, for the second issue of its inaugural volume. This issue is a commemorative treatise of Gandhian thought in contemporary times, celebrating the 150th birth anniversary of the Mahatma.
